

FICTIONAL SAMPLE

Your sign and personal overview

Alex Morgan · invented birth details

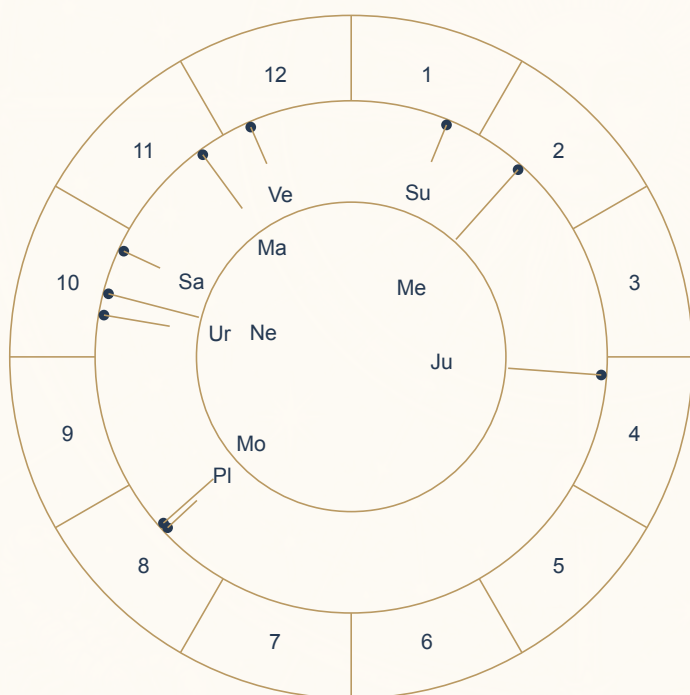

Selected pages from a fictional report. A complete reading can contain more pages.

Your birth chart

A birth chart shows the positions of the Sun, Moon and planets at the time of birth. Astrology reads these positions as symbols for different themes in life.

Sun	Aries 22.34°
Moon	Scorpio 18.48°
Mercury	Taurus 11.72°
Venus	Pisces 6.39°
Mars	Aquarius 23.72°
Jupiter	Cancer 4.14°
Saturn	Capricorn 24.93°
Uranus	Capricorn 9.59°
Neptune	Capricorn 14.57°
Pluto	Scorpio 17.06°

What this reading covers

A birth chart is a picture of the sky at the time of birth. The following sections explain different themes in that picture. Read them as suggestions to compare with your experience, rather than a fixed description of who you must be.

Sun in Aries

This part of the reading is about your sense of direction and how you express yourself.

You may prefer to try something rather than wait for a perfect plan. Give your first step a clear purpose, then make room for feedback.

Choosing a goal because it matters to you can feel different from choosing it to meet an expectation.

In everyday life: A first attempt can help you find out whether an idea works. In a shared project, explain what you want to try before starting.

What to watch for: Speed may make it easy to overlook another person's pace or a hidden cost.

Try this: Choose a goal that matters to you even without praise. A small completed task can tell you more than a general label about your personality. Before saying yes, name the first step, the time it needs and the point at which you will review it.

Sun: 22.34° Aries.

A question to consider: Which decision would still matter if nobody praised it?
